Several township have reached their quota and some have exceeded it. Namely, Greencastle Township, with Prof. Earl Bowman, Mrs. Grafton J. Long, Sr., and J. J. Eitel as chairman solicitors.

All those who have not yet contributed to the Red Cross, are urged to do so because of the tremendous expenditures incurred by the relief work of the Red Cross in tornado and flood disaster. The public's contribution made it possible for nearly 100,000 families to be helped in 1957-58. The past two years has been the heaviest disaster years in the organization's 76 year history.

Disaster comes, like a thief in the night. It is heart warming to know that the Red Cross is on the job, twenty-four hours a day, 7 days a week, for you.

If you have not yet contributed, you can send in your contribution for membership direct to the Red Cross Office, 3rd Floor Court House, Greencastle, or to Robert H. O'Hair, Chairman of the 1958 Fund Campaign.

Injured were: Mrs. Peggy Roberts, 41, Little Meadow, Pennsylvania; Floyd Dougherty, Indianapolis and his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Dougherty. The condition of all three was reported as "fairly good" Monday morning.

All autos involved were going north on Jackson street. Danberry said James Mackey, a city fireman, stopped for a car ahead of him to make a turn. Bonnie Johnson, Route Four, stopped behind Mackey but a car driven by William Sawyer, Reelsville Route 1, hit the rear of the Johnson car which in turn jammed into Mackey's automobile.

Damage was estimated at $75 to the Mackey car; $100 to Sawyer's and $175 to the Johnson auto.

Soviets Bidding For Nasser Favor

Soviet Russia is making a big new bid this week for the favor of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. Nasser is flying to Moscow, at the invitation of the Soviet government, on the biggest state visit he ever has made.

Advance reports indicate the visit will be a red carpet affair and that every possible attempt will be made to impress the visitor with the industrial, political and military might of the Soviet Union.

News that Nasser would make the visit—in response to an invitation issued two years ago—leaked out in Cairo on March 29 and was confirmed officially.

Cairo dispatches say that he will attend the big May Day celebration in Moscow May 1, that he will tour the country as far as Siberia—and that he may witness the launching of Russia's Sputnik No. 3.

News of the visit is pretty certain to be unwelcome in Washington.

46 DIE WHEN AIRLINER, JET PLANE COLLIDE

LAS VEGAS OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE CRASH OF 2 PLANES IN FLIGHT

LAS VEGAS, Nev. UP—A United Air Lines four-engined DC7 with 46 persons aboard collided with a jet fighter plane over the desert south of here shortly after 9 a. m. today and crashed.

The collision occurred at approximately 28,000 feet.

Denny Schieck, a photographer for the Las Vegas Review-Journal, an eyewitness to the crash said he saw a white puff of smoke, followed by a flash. A black plume of smoke billowed out of the wreckage as the two planes plummeted earthward and landed in the desert 10 miles apart.

A Civil Aeronautics Administration spokesman said wreckage of the four engined commercial liner was "spread over an area about a mile square."

Schieck said he saw a parachute blossom out after the collision and it was believed the pilot of the jet had escaped. A spokesman at Nellis Air Force Base said it was presumed the jet was an F100 from Nellis.

The UAL plane had left Los Angeles International Airport on a flight to New York with a scheduled stop at Denver.

Sheriff's officers said the rocky terrain where the planes crashed was inaccessible except by using jeeps and horses and was some 10 miles southwest of Las Vegas. Smoke from the burning wreckage could be seen from the downtown area.

The isolated, remote area was some 20 miles east of the mountain area where another crash carried to death actress Carole (Continued on Page 6)

Woodland Meet Set For Friday

Hoosiers from throughout Indiana will gather on April 25 to dedicate their woodlands to the growing of repeated timber crops.

The ceremony will be held on the Sam T. and Hazel Clashman farm near Madison, Indiana.

According to George Demuth, Edinburg Veneer Co., official and chairman of the Indiana Tree Farm Committee, Indiana now has 83 certified Tree Farms, comprising 15,000 acres of productive timber lands.

Mr. Willard Singleton of Putnam County will be recognized at this program.

New members will be presented with certificates and a large green and white diamond shaped sign to post at the woods.

According to F. T. Miller, local District Extension forester, many Putnam County woodlands already under protection and cutting management could easily qualify as Tree Farms. Many woods already entered as Classified Forests with the Indiana Division of Forestry would qualify.

He also stated the program is a nationwide effort by the timber industries to encourage improved forest management. It deserves public support along with the efforts of the State and Federal Government programs which try for the same end result—better management, better paying farm woodlands.

6 Opening lead — A Q

"The four of spades has been led," the new book states, "and you pause to take stock of your prospects."

"You have five tricks 'off the top'—two in spades and three in hearts. By leading diamonds and forcing out the opponent's ace, you can set up three more tricks, and surely your ninth trick will be available in clubs."

"But hold the phone! When an opponent wins the ace of diamonds, he will lead a second spade, and you will no longer have a stopper in the spade suit. Before you can get your ninth trick in clubs, the opponents will take at least three spade tricks, the ace of diamonds and the ace of clubs, and after you will go."

Must Go After Clubs

"The solution is that you must go after the club suit first, not the diamond suit."

"True, the diamonds are more solid, but the clubs may yield four tricks after the ace has been knocked out. With only five top-card tricks, you must try for four fast tricks before the opponents get their spades established. The club play may not succeed but at least it will give you a good fighting chance to make contract."

This is good advice, well and simply put. The Card School has done a real service in putting its great teaching experience into this fine new booklet.

GOV. HARRIMAN URGES TAX CUT IN RECESSION

PROGRAM AND HUGE
BOND PURCHASE

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gov. Averell Harriman of New York called today for an anti-recession tax cut, "a large and diversified program of public works" and Federal Reserve Board purchase of "several billion dollars" of government bonds to fight the recession.

The Democratic governor said the Eisenhower administration must bear the blame for the recession. He said it must now "face the facts, tell the people the truth and act positively and convincingly" or lose a vital battle in the cold war with Communism.

Harriman made his recommendations in testimony prepared for delivery before the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks earlier attacked certain top-level congressional Democrats for "deliberately plotting" to exaggerate the seriousness of the business downturn and intimidate consumers.

In a weekend speech at a GOP rally in Skowhegan, Me., Weeks said he believed rank-and-file Democrats like Republicans sympathized with the unemployed. "But I do charge," he said, "certain strategists of the opposition with deliberately plotting for selfish partisan advantage to talk people into the jitters."

U. S. Scientists to Give Moon Its Own Satellite? Believe It Can Be Done, Perhaps Sometime in '59

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Scientists have decided that the United States can send a rocket past the moon this autumn and create a satellite around the moon sometime next year.

The first rocket will carry radio equipment and instruments. During the brief period it is near the moon, the instruments will measure the moon's gravity and magnetic field.

The robot may then coast around the moon in a half circle and come back toward the earth, or it may shoot out into infinity.

Creating the moon satellite is considerably more difficult. The rocket must be fired so that the payload will be almost at zero speed when it enters the moon's gravitational sphere.

Then the instrumented robot must be guided by automatic equipment onto a course parallel to the surface of the moon, and given a final push into an orbit. That means a small amount of rocket fuel must be carried as part of the payload.

The orbital velocity around the moon will be only about 1,800 miles an hour, or one-tenth the speed required to overcome the earth's gravity. As a result, the moon satellite will complete an orbit in about 20 hours instead of two.

However, there need be little fear that the moon satellite will have a short lifetime once in an orbit. The moon almost certainly has no atmosphere that could slow it down, so the robot should keep on going indefinitely.

● NUCLEAR TESTS—Despite President Eisenhower's hint that the United States may announce a halt in nuclear testing after the summer series ends this autumn, there is no chance this will come about.

The President qualified his statement with a big "If"—If scientists tell him they have "largely or almost completely found out" the things they "thought it necessary to find out." What this means in simple language is that before the United States would consider a test halt, a fool-proof nuclear antimissile missile to defend against Soviet intercontinental ballistic rockets would have to be developed.

Experts, pointing out the tremendous problems involved in devising a weapon to seek out and destroy a missile traveling 15,000 miles an hour, say it will take at least one and possibly three years before this is perfected. And, they say, it will be at least this long before tests can be safely halted.

● FARM FAME—A resolution has been introduced in the Senate to establish a Hall of Fame for Agriculture and honor the men and women who produce the nation's food. Senator Frank Carlson, from the wheat lands of Kansas, is the principal backer of the resolution.

The GOP senator believes it is high time that recognition be given to the people who have brought this "once wild continent into peaceful cultivation" as well as those who currently till the soil.

Carlson's resolution provides that an agricultural museum shall be maintained as part of the Hall of Fame. He believes that the Hall should be situated "in a rural setting, near good transportation." He doesn't exactly say so, but obviously he considers Kansas an ideal, centrally located site for the establishment.

Under the terms of the resolution, five persons would be elected to the Hall of Fame annually.

Mrs. Laura Belle Wilson is engaged to Jim Eough, but their wedding has been stymied temporarily by county officials who refuse to give them a license. They said she must have a birth certificate to prove she is over 18.

Monroe County Clerk T. Nolin Welch said "We'll be happy to issue the license when Mrs. Wilson can meet the requirements of the law."

Mrs. Wilson said she will try to get a birth certificate in Stanford, Ky., where she was born in 1873.

cultanian outlined his views on academic integrity and Christian responsibility.

"The responsibility of Christianity," he said, "is to invite the academic mind to read the word of God, to invite the positivist to become a Christian positivist not a Christian idealist."

A professor at Chicago's McCormick Theological Seminary, Dr. Haroutunian appeared before more than 150 faculty members from colleges in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky.

"It is the business of the Christian college to have all world views strongly represented," he insisted, "and not to bring in so-called Christian teachers who already have confused the Christian faith with a world view."

Referring to the idea of a Christian world view as "absurd," Dr. Haroutunian defined a Christian as one who "meets God at a given time and place" and "meets his neighbor in faithfulness to Jesus Christ."

"In my opinion," he continued, "loving your neighbor pleases the Lord a great deal more than having a world view of Him that pleases you."

The theology professor denounced those who tie up Christianity "with any old thing that comes along" and who apologize for a world view already dead instead of preaching the Gospel to the generations.

According to the speaker, it is not what a man believes but what he seeks to understand in Jesus Christ. "The Church sometimes seems more interested in having people recite the creed than in knowing what it means."

"The dogmas of the Church are not axiomatic," he added. "Man must understand what they mean, and he will not understand unless he daily meets Jesus Christ in his neighbor and his neighbor in Jesus Christ."

Dr. Haroutunian again emphasized that the statement of Christian faith is not a world view but a confession, saying: "This matter of being a Christian is a matter of confessing the power of God."

Commenting on his reference to the term "faith," he told his audience that "Christian faith is not actually faith at all, but faith and hope and love acting as one."

DePauw Teams In Clean Sweep

Continuing their recent successes in the Spring sports, DePauw teams turned in a clean sweep Saturday with victories in baseball, tennis and track.

The Tiger nine took both ends of a conference double-header against Ball State, 1-0, and 4-1; the thistles ran away with a triangular meet involving Valpo and Evansville; and the netters blanked Indiana State, 9-0.

Including Thursday's decisive golf win over St. Joseph's and Friday's whitewash of Evansville on the tennis courts, DePauw athletes now have won six straight in four sports.

Junior Dick Robinson and senior Al Heister turned in sparkling mound performances here Saturday as the Bengals moved their conference—and season's—record to the 2-2 level.

Scattering five hits in the nine-inning opener, Robinson bested Ball State's Dick Surawiec in a tight pitching duel when Bud Herzog singled home Bob Darnall in the seventh with the game's only run.

Heister made his first collegiate start in the nightcap, and the converted infielder-outfielder had a no-hitter going until the seventh and last inning, when State scored on an error, a walk, a single and an infield out.

On the Blackstock track DePauw took 11 of 15 firsts and shared another en route to a 12½ point total. Valparaiso finished with 29 5/8, and Evansville had 19 2/3.

DePauw's tennis squad ran its Hoosier small-college victory string to 62 straight at Terre Haute Saturday and boosted its season's mark to 6-1. Only loss was to the University Club in Memphis.

This week's schedule opened today with a DePauw-Ball State golf match at Windy Hill, and two other teams will be at home Wednesday for meetings with Wabash in baseball and Memphis State in track. Also booked is a tennis match at Miami (O.) on Thursday.

Home fans will be treated to a Saturday slate which includes a triangular meet with Cincinnati and Butler, a tennis match with Earlham, two baseball games with Louisville, and a golf match with Indiana State.

Bike Race Set For April 26th

An event which is fast becoming a campus tradition at DePauw University, the "Little 500" bicycle race, will be wheeled off here Saturday, April 26.

Sponsor of the 145-lap grind, which figures out to a shade more than 36 miles on the quarter-mile track at Blackstock Stadium, is the DePauw Student Union.

According to Alan McMahan of Fort Wayne, "Little 500" chairman, 14 men's living units will be represented by four-man teams in the third annual race.

Sole beneficiary of proceeds from the affair again will be the American Cancer Fund, with its Putnam County chapter serving as the forwarding agency.

For the first time DePauw's racers will use uniform cycles, purchased this year by the Union for loan to each of the entries.

Defending champion and winner of the first race in 1956 is Lambda Chi Alpha, although Phi Kappa Psi earned the pole position in the official time trials.

Arranged by times for the one-mile trial run, the starting lineup will be Phi Kappa Psi, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Delta Chi, first row; Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, and Delta Upsilon, second row.

Also Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Men's Hall Association, third row; Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, and Sigma Nu, fourth row; and Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Kappa Epsilon, fifth row.

Winner of the "Little 500" will gain possession for one year of the L. Strauss Company trophy, donated last year by the Indianapolis department store.

Varying past procedures, the "Miniature 500" for coed tricycle teams will be held in Bowman Gymnasium on Friday, April 25, instead of immediately before the feature event at the stadium.

Mystery Light Blows Up In Sky

ATLANTA (UP)—A bullet-shaped blob of light flashed across the southeastern sky early Sunday night and blew up with blinding brilliance.

Witnesses from as far north as Martinsburg, W. Va., and Corbin, Ky., and as far south as Georgia reported seeing the object, the local Weather Bureau reported. Curious callers jammed telephone switchboards in cities along the object's course, inquiring what had passed over.

Authorities at Dobbins Air Force Base indicated they would begin an investigation today in an effort to determine the answer.

Among the observers were several pilots in the air at the time of the object's passage. The object appeared shortly before 8:30 p. m. est., according to observers. It moved southward at terrific speed, witnesses said, and trailed a shower of bright sparks.

"All reports indicate it was very bright, bullet-shaped, fiery red with a yellow tail and put out a lot of fireworks," a Weather Bureau spokesman said.

"The flares said it lit up their cockpits," the Weather Bureau said. "None of them actually saw it fall. They also indicated it was very high. One jet pilot flying at 39,000 feet said it was well above him."

Navy pilot H. D. Jarvis, on a flight from Charleston, W. Va., in a T-28 trainer, reported on landing at Dobbins that the red globe "burst with such brilliance that it blinded me."

Arkansas has about 2,750 miles of navigable water routes in the state and along its borders.

Truman Says He Made A Mistake

WASHINGTON (UP)—Harry S. Truman says he made a mistake in telling a congressional committee last Monday that his exclusive interview with Arthur Krock of the New York Times in 1950 "did not happen."

"My memory, like that of most people, sometimes fails to work quickly," the former President said in a letter of apology to Krock.

Truman's letter was placed in the hearing record of the House Banking Committee today by its Chairman, Brent Spence, D-Ky., who said that Truman "frankly admits he made a mistake" in denying the interview when he appeared before the panel last Monday.

Truman admitted that he was correctly quoted in the interview.

He was quoted as saying that "a certain amount of unemployment, say from three to five millions, is supportable; it is a good thing that job seeking should go on at all times; this is healthy for the economic body."

In his letter to Krock, the former President said he was "taken by surprise" when Republicans asked him about that passage. "If the interview had been quoted in full, as it should have been, perhaps I would have remembered it," he told Krock.

Truman said that he thought "was being used to make a ship ping boy out of me."

He added that he regretted "very much" that he had mistakenly denied the interview, "but I still cannot see why it was necessary to dig up dead horses, and situations long since successfully concluded, merely to justify the fact that nothing has been done to correct our present problems."

Krock's reply to Truman, which was also placed in the hearing record, thanked Truman "for your generous act" in requesting that the record be corrected.

"If agree with you emphatically that the Republicans were using me to make a 'whipping boy' of you," Krock wrote.

"And I agree with equal emphasis that the entire paragraph in the 1950 interview that included those two sentences should have been quoted."

"It justified no attack on the ground of inconsistency or any other, and your statement that a certain of unemployment was 'supportable' in our economy is wholly different from, and indeed exclusive of any implication that this is 'desirable.'"

Expert Discusses Homes In Future

NEW YORK (UP)—Will the home of the future be underground? Will you be able to sit in your living room and dial the kind of home atmosphere that will keep mama and papa from quarreling? Will we have furniture that is charged to repel dust?

These are not idle speculations. They are solid thoughts from a man whose job is to try to peer into the scientific future. He's Dr. Finn Larsen, research director for Minneapolis-Honeywell, who has 140 scientists and engineers on his staff.

In his long-range projections, he underlines the assertion that the sun's energy must come into usage.

"The entire U. S. supply of gas and oil will be exhausted in 25 to 30 years if the use keeps increasing at the present rate," he said. The world supply probably will last 10 years longer than that. With oil and gas out of the picture, solar energy must become important at an increasing rate—and we do know how to apply it."

About one-third of the total energy used in the United States is for heating, Larsen said. He believes the sun's energy will be most broadly used for home heating. The U. S. coal supply, incidentally, is expected to last for another 100 years.

As for home atmosphere: "The time ought to come when you can control the moods and attitudes of a family—dial the kind of atmosphere that makes people feel well enough so that they don't quarrel. We want to control completely the indoor climate."

Lassie Must Get A New 'Family'

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Poor Lassie, he's just gotta quit shedding.

Unlike most dogs who shed their coats, the amiable collie sheds owners. Her current TV family goes by the boards next month.

Young Jon Provost, who plays Tim, and George Chandler Uncle Petrie will stick around, but Ruth and Paul Martin played by Cloris Leachman and Jon Sheppard are deserting the Sunday night program for keeps.

Lassie found herself in much the same straight last spring when Jan Clayton and Tommy Rettig exited the show.

Does Lassie keep late hours? Is she a closet drinker? What's wrong with this dog, who can't keep a family, does she suffer from mange?

None of these things, says Miss Leachman, who is responsible for this most recent crisis in the Lassie series family. Cloris wanted at to do more serious and "rewarding" roles. Sheppard, because he plays her husband, was doomed by her decision.

Will Cloris miss Lassie? "I have a doberman pinscher," the willowy blonde answered without a trace of remorse.

"My role on the show was very limiting. There just wasn't much for me to do. Of course, I knew when I took the job, but I had hoped I'd be able to contribute more. John Sheppard felt the same way."

"Now the producers are looking for new parents who will play even smaller roles in the series than we did. But the producers have nothing to worry about as long as they have the boy and the dog."

Be that as it may, the public, and perhaps a few child welfare agencies, most certainly will be provoked. Both Timmy and Lassie are being shunted about like a pair of forsaken orphans. Audience credulity may be stretched to the breaking point if a third family invades the old Miller farm.

Miss Leachman, who once played in "South Pacific" on Broadway for four weeks, wants to play vamp roles—a long whoop and holler from her TV farm wife characterization.

"I plan to do some singing, too," she avers, "and perhaps some movie work. I want to do more things that demand real acting talent."

"I'd never think of doing anything serious. It takes too much time away from my own family."

Cloris might be wise to seek villainess roles. Lassie fans are a loyal bunch. They doubtless will find it difficult to forgive her for walking out on Timmy and the nation's favorite canine.

"WATCH YOUR STEP"—This view of the new United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization building in Paris shows its outside spiral stairs, fanlike and with a watch-your-step absence of railings. The building, nearing completion, is near the Eiffel tower. (International)

Do you have a Bull by the tail... or is it just a Cow?

Don't laugh, there are many people who can't tell the difference. And speaking of things seeming to be something they are not, do you think a "local" market is "just as good" as Indianapolis?

It is easy enough to think so... the local market is closer and their prices are based on those at Indianapolis. So what's the difference? Well, there's a lot of difference.

In the first place, at Indianapolis your livestock isn't "just bought"... it's really sold... by expert salesmen who know what it's really worth, and who know how to get it.

Then, too, let's consider the importance of the fact that all livestock aren't the same. A scale can tell you the weight, but it can't tell you how much type, grade, and finish to add to the value. At Indianapolis, there's broad competitive demand for all types, weights and grades.

And... just to mention one other thing... you'll protect your bargaining power by strengthening the market that sets your price... and you'll take home more dollars, besides.

Ask the man who markets at Indianapolis... and you'll find that those extra dollars make it more than worthwhile to ship a few more miles to the

Southwest Hit By Wind, Hail

Wind, rain and hail storms ripped wide sections of the Southwest Sunday and Sunday night, causing heaviest damage in northern Texas.

Thunderstorms whipped by winds up to 80 miles an hour struck Fort Worth, Tex., uprooting trees, falling power lines and shattering windows. High winds also raked Dallas, Amarillo and Wichita Falls, Tex., and demolished 30 private boats at Possum Kingdom Lake.

Hail up to half an inch in diameter pounded Borger, Tex., Sunday night, and at least two tornadoes touched ground near Dumas, Tex., but caused no damage. Other funnel clouds were reported Sunday in east-central Illinois near Bement and east-central Arkansas near Little Rock.

The squall line marked the path of a cold air front which pushed eastward out of Texas and by nightfall extended to the Carolinas and north to New York state.

Precipitation also occurred along the lower Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and Tennessee and into Mississippi and northern Alabama. Jackson, Miss., was doused with .81 inches of rain during the night and marble-sized hail and high winds accompanied the storm.

A few scattered showers were reported in parts of New England, but most of the Atlantic Coast states enjoyed fair and warm weather.

Fair skies also ruled Sunday from California east into Colorado and New Mexico, but showers were widespread from the Pacific Northwest and across the Rockies into the northern Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley.

The storm front sent readings dipping into the 40s and 50s in the Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley overnight, and Grand Marais, Mich., reported an early morning low of 27.

By contrast, 100-plus temperatures baked southern California Sunday and weathermen predicted more sizzling readings today. The mercury bubbled to 95 in Los Angeles where 25 baseball fans suffered heat exhaustion at the Coliseum.

Burbank, Calif., recorded an all-time April record high of 100 degrees, and the desert resort of Palm Springs and the town of Thermal baked in 106-degree temperatures.

Seven Killed On State Highways

Indiana followed up its first traffic death-free weekend in 10 years with a return to the old familiar pattern, and this time the toll was seven, including three in one accident.

Carl F. Poehler Jr., 29, Indianapolis, died this morning in an Indianapolis hospital where he was taken in critical condition Sunday after he was thrown from his wrecked automobile on Ind. 100 with his gasoline-soaked clothing afire.

A car carrying two 17-year-old boys slid broadside into another car on Ind. 25 seven miles north of Logansport Sunday. The boys, Howard McDougle of Fulton and Steve Struggle of Rochester, were killed along with the driver and lone occupant of the other car, Harold G. Bowyer, 30, Fulton.

Authorities said the boys' convertible apparently driven by Struggle had passed another vehicle when the driver saw Bowyer's car sit in the left door. The front of Bowyer's car collapsed as it plowed into the convertible.

Two persons were killed Saturday in the Gary area. Michael Stephan, 35, Lorain, O., was killed when a tire blew on his automobile on the Northern Indiana Toll Road inside Gary's city limits. The car swerved into the path of a truck.

A two-car crash at the intersection of Ind. 53 and U. S. 30 three miles south of Gary killed Charles E. Pelton, 43, East Gary.

Three-month-old Jean Ann Fox of Bicknell was killed and nine persons were injured in a head-on collision four miles south of Sullivan on U. S. 41 Friday night.

INDORSE PRICE LABELS
WASHINGTON (UP) — The American Automobile Assn. today endorsed legislation to require price labels on new automobiles.

Ross D. Netherton, legislative council for the AAA, said there is "a definite need for more complete disclosure of information about the elements of cost involved in the purchase of automobiles." He said there is "a particular need for presenting this information in a form which makes it readily available to both buyer and seller, on an equal basis, as they negotiate."

Netherton, testifying before a Senate Commerce subcommittee, said "efforts to achieve this objective are clearly in the public interest."

The AAA official and John L. O'Brien, president of the Akron, Ohio, Better Business Bureau, were the first witnesses as the subcommittee opened hearings on a bill to require the price label.

O'Brien and Netherton said some method is needed for enabling a buyer to find out exactly what the car he wants to buy will cost.

Catherine Fay set up the world's first children's home in Marietta, Ohio, in 1867.

WEE ONE'S BLOOD REPLACED—Scott Larson looks out of his incubator at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Larson, a new little man, you might say. He weighed only 28 ounces at birth in Los Angeles, and was only 15 inches long, five inches shorter than usual for newborn babies. Added to this was yellow jaundice. So four days after Scott was born, he was given a complete change of blood in an operation.

PRINCE ALBERT BAPTIZED ON SUN. AT MONTE CARLO
MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UP)—They baptized Prince Albert heir to the ancient throne of Monaco, Sunday and everybody was happy but the Dockers.

Britain's Sir Bernard and Lady Docker left Monaco in a huff because they could not wangle an invitation for their son to a palace party celebrating the baptism.

"It's too late for apologies," thundered Sir Bernard at a hastily called news conference at a hotel in nearby Cannes. He indicated he would not accept an apology even if Prince Rainier and Princess Grace offered one.

The Birmingham Industrialist said he and Lady Docker were invited 10 days ago to a palace reception following the baptism. They flew in Friday with Lance 19 year old son of Lady Docker by a previous marriage.

"We took two gifts to the palace the day we arrived," said Sir

Bernard. "Lady Docker and I gave a watch, my son gave a silver dish." Then they asked if Lance's name might not be added to their invitations.

"We were shunted from office to office," Sir Bernard said. "Finally we got to Princess Grace's secretary who told us she would ask the princess." But no word came and they left for Cannes.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H*.
